

WELCOME! I am very excited to have you join my studio. I look forward to helping you find and finesse your sound, nurture your artistry, and tune into fun and wholesome singing.

Please read this thoroughly and return to me signed before our 1st lesson. A scanned copy via email is the way I will receive these.

Lesson Policy

For any lesson we will have agreed upon goals and expectations, as well as assignments and objectives. Lessons are currently online only. I can provide repertoire sheet music if necessary, and sometimes recorded accompaniments; students must otherwise work with Appcompanist or have their own recorded tracks for repertoire work. A YouTube track is good; however, if they have a live pianist for them on their end for the repertoire section of the class, that is perfect. A 48hr window is necessary for cancellations, otherwise that is a lost lesson. This applies for lessons that come as part of a pack or course. Rescheduling is available according to calendar and service availability. One emergency cancellation per 6 months allowed. In case of illness, we can still have a productive voice lesson that does not involve singing; the 1 per 6 months freebie can be made count, or I will make up this class according to calendar availability with a doctor's note. Any cancellation on my part has a guaranteed make-up time; expect me to communicate in written form for this cancellation and a confirmed make-up day and time.

Courses and each of their sessions have the same application.

By signing and returning this to me, you agree to these policies. A filed copy will be kept and will be used for accountability of both our parts.

Can't wait to make music together!

Sincerely,
